1. Aims

Harwell Primary School is committed to ALL pupils achieving their potential, including supporting them to understand their physical and emotional development.

Harwell Primary School considers that Sex and Relationships Education (RSE) is an integral part of the Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) curriculum, and is linked to that for Science.

We aim to offer pupils a carefully planned programme on human development, relationships, sexuality and family life within a safe, comfortable atmosphere and in a relaxed relationship between teacher and pupil.

The programme is set within a clear framework and matched to the pupils' level of maturity. This policy reflects the requirements of the DfE Sex and Relationship Guidance 2019.

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

The RSE curriculum is consistent with the school values of respect, tolerance and the understanding of the rule of law, in line with fundamental British Values and the equalities act 2010.

The RSE curriculum supports the schools aims to provide a happy, caring, safe and secure environment which encourages and stimulates children to learn and to achieve their full potential for others, promoting kindness and understanding.

2. Statutory requirements

As a maintained primary school we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

However, we are not required to provide sex education but we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Harwell School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with Governors, Staff and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – the SLT pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff and Governor consultation – all School staff and Governors were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/carer consultation – parents and carer were invited comment and ask questions about the policy (please note that parent comments do not amount to a veto)

4. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified by the FGB

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, governors and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

To support a consistent approach and to support the effective delivery of RSE, the school makes use of Jigsaw Curriculum materials which have been adjusted to suit the school's unique character.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in the wider curriculum, including "Religious Education (RE) and Physical Education (PE)".

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained health professional, (where possible) supported by school staff.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances. Families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures. We will also reflect sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

Language

- Children should be introduced, at appropriate stages, to the correct terminology in their programme of sex education. It is important that acceptable and unacceptable terminology is clarified. After initial discussion, correct biological terms will be used at all times for teaching.

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing body

The governing body will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory/non-science components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory/non-science components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

Children's Questions

Teachers will reply to, and answer, children's questions sensitively and openly. They will ensure that balanced information is provided which will take into account the different faiths' views and avoid any negative impressions.

Teachers will need to answer questions that may arise through the direct teaching of sex education, as well as those that may be asked at other times. All questions will be handled sensitively and set within a general context.

Questions which teachers feel uncertain about answering should be discussed with a senior member of staff and answered at a later date. Consideration should be given to religious or cultural factors, and to parents' wishes before questions are answered.

If the teacher decides to discuss the matter on an individual basis, a record must be kept of that discussion.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are encouraged to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity. Staff should consider the children's needs including any unique family situations, prior or Special educational needs.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

However, Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory/non-science components of sex education within RSE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher (a copy of which can be provided by the school office on request).

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE and support materials guide staff in an age appropriate manner of delivery.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE, where appropriate.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the Headteacher through:

- learning walks
- pupil conversations
- observations.

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by The Headteacher and Governor sub committee on an annual basis. At every review, the policy will be approved by the Full Governing Body.
