5th January 2021

Dear Families,

As you know, sadly, we are moving to remote learning from tomorrow. As a team, we have worked together to form how our new school day will look for the foreseeable future.

Please be aware that full participation from all children is expected, whether in school or at home, and we thank you for your support in this. Below is a timetable (next page) for you to note when the Google Classroom Meets are scheduled – we have tried to avoid sibling class clashes as best as we possibly can. Although we anticipate technical issues to begin with, being prompt for these Meets is essential as the input will not be repeated. You may notice that sibling timetables are slightly different and this is due to age appropriateness – please note these timetables are subject to change. As before, parents must communicate with us through the office please and not to comment on Google Classroom. Thank you for your understanding.

As you know, this term our project/topic is Growth and Empire and our big question is:

Is Exploration Good For All?

The children will be completing tasks related to core subjects (English and maths) in the morning, then move on to more creative topic tasks in the afternoon. All aspects of the curriculum due to be covered this term will continue, although some things will need to be adapted.

Please note that there will be no Google Meets or teaching input on a Friday afternoon. This time will be used for the children to enjoy Golden Time. Further details of this will be posted on our Google Classroom on a Friday morning.

Below is a timetable of how our week will look. Our Google Meets are highlighted in red, although we have included other year group Google Meets for your information. Please try to ensure your child/ren join our Google Meets as promptly as possible. We will be doing a register every morning and every afternoon to make sure all the children are online and able to access the learning.

Lastly, we would just like to say a huge thank you for all of your patience, understanding and continued support during these unprecedented times for us all.

Warm regards,

Mr King and Miss Reilly
